

SMART RECRUITMENT ADD MORE 'SMARTIES' TO THEIR OWN POT!

In the industry of finding candidates suitable, quality employment, Smart Recruitment know what makes a good employer and set the highest standards by their own example. In recent weeks 6 new employees have started work at Smart Recruitment, which is not only becoming one of the most successful local businesses in the region, but also one of the most popular local employers. Furthermore, 2 of the new recruits are being employed in new positions at Smart Recruitment due to increased demands.

Thanks to a significant benefits package which includes 20 days holiday rising to 25 after 5 years, contributory pension after 3 months, an unlimited bonus scheme, and free parking, increasingly important in high street locations, Smart Recruitment are attracting the best people in the Industry, including two new recruits, headhunted from leading national agencies.

Smart Recruitment's working practice is to give employees relative autonomy allowing the freedom to run desks as their 'own business' with guidance from the managers. Each desk is provided with dedicated administrative support. Employees are encouraged to gain professional membership to the Recruitment and Employment Confederation (REC) via the foundation Award in Recruitment Practice. The course provides the consultant with a comprehensive knowledge of all the skills needed in the recruitment process.

Helen Stacey, Director, comments, "Employers and candidates using a qualified recruitment consultant, as employed by Smart, are always assured of a professional and competent service from a consultant who is not only qualified but who also abides by the REC's Code of Good Recruitment Practice. Smart Recruitment knows how to get the best from employees and give the best to them. In terms of our benefits package we offer excellent opportunities within the industry and are experiencing great success thanks to the team we employ. We continue to expand at a rapid rate and are ensuring ourselves, our employees, our candidates and clients alike the best possible future by recruiting the best staff the industry has to offer."
